

DiffPDF License

Copyright © Qtrac Ltd. 2018-2024. All Rights Reserved.

Qtrac Ltd. (Qtrac) hereby gives you a non-exclusive license to use DiffPDF (the Software) and its associated documentation under the following terms.

Qtrac's web site (the Web Site) is www.qtrac.eu (or, synonymously, www.diffpdf.com).

A client is a person or a process that runs the Software.

The Software may be sold or resold in the US and most other countries outside Europe. In particular this software is not for sale or resale in any country in the European Union (EU) or the European Economic Area (EEA) or any EU candidate country or in any country that adopts the EU's Cyber Resilience Act or a local equivalent. (Why?)

The Software may only be used under the terms of this license using a license key obtained from the Web Site or directly from Qtrac.

You may obtain a time-limited trial license key, to evaluate the Software free of charge on a specific computer, from the Web Site, or on request to support@diffpdf.com via a download or upload link. (This key will be for a specific major version of the Software and tied to the computer it is acquired on. It is not transferrable.)

You may buy an annual license key for a fee from the Web Site or directly from Qtrac. An annual key is time-limited to one year. An annual key is not tied to any specific computer, and is transferrable.

Once you have downloaded and installed the Software you must register a trial or annual license key for a specific computer to be able to use it under the terms of this license. (Normally, the Software will automatically acquire a free trial license key the first time it is run.)

To switch from a trial license key to an annual licence key, simply register the annual license key purchased from the Web Site or directly from Qtrac. (See the manual for how to do this.)

Each annual license key is valid for one year from the date of purchase. An annual license key is valid on any computer and may be used with the Software at a specific major version (including all minor and patch releases that may be released later), from version 6.1.0. Annual keys expire after one year but are unaffected by hardware changes.

An annual license key may be freely transferred (but not copied) to another computer in the same organization. This can be done by moving the license key from one computer to another. However, you may not have more copies of an annual key (or more clients of the Software using an annual key) than the number of unexpired annual license keys that you have purchased.

If concurrent use is required (i.e., if the Software is put on a server), then you must buy one annual license for every client that could use the Software (regardless of whether they use it or not), as if each client had installed the Software on their own computer. Thus, the only possible advantage of using a server and concurrent use is for system administration convenience.

If the Software is installed in a virtual machine, then you must buy one license for every virtual machine in use multiplied by the number of clients who could use the Software on the virtual machines (regardless of whether they use it or not), as if each client had installed the Software on their own computer. Thus, the only possible advantage of using a virtual machine is for system administration convenience.

The Software may not be embedded as part of other software that is then given, rented, leased, sold, or otherwise transferred to a third-party except with Qtrac's express written permission. Such permission will only be granted if Qtrac is satisfied that there is adequate technical and administrative provision to ensure that the number of clients of the software in which Qtrac's Software is embedded will never exceed the number of unexpired annual licenses for the Software that have been purchased.

The Software may be copied for archival purposes, provided any copy contains all of the original Software's proprietary notices.

Additional requirements/constraints:

- You may not use the Software with an annual key on more machines than the number of unexpired annual license keys purchased;
- you may not use the Software with an annual key on a server which provides access to the Software by more clients than the number of unexpired annual license keys purchased;
- you may not allow more people to use the Software at any one time than the number of unexpired annual licenses you have purchased;
- you may not use the Software to provide an online service (e.g., an online PDF comparison service, or a service that uses PDF comparisons);
- you must keep the license key secret and you may not make the license key available or accessible to anyone (e.g., by putting it on the internet or social media, or by any other means); however, you may privately and securely distribute the license key to legitimate clients of the Software within your organization (or within the organization on whose behalf the license key was purchased), providing they read and abide by this license's terms and keep the license key secret;

- you may not give away, rent, lease, sell, or otherwise transfer the license key—except in the case of an annual key which may be moved from one machine to another that's owned by the organization that purchased the license key (or on whose behalf the license key was purchased), providing the total number of clients does not exceed the number of unexpired annual license keys purchased;
- you may not modify, translate, reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble the Software (except to the extent applicable laws specifically prohibit such restriction);
- you may not create derivative works based on the Software (except as specified above regarding embedding the Software);
- you may not copy the Software (except as specified above);
- you may not give away, rent, lease, sell, or otherwise transfer rights to the Software;
- you may not remove any proprietary notices or labels on the Software.

Termination

The license will terminate automatically if you fail to comply with any of the license's terms. On termination, you must destroy all copies of the Software and documentation.
